GOOD MOVE

Leading Men Now Circulating Petitions in City.

DOCUMENTS ADVOCATE MUNICIPAL OWNERSHIP

Want People to Vote Bonds for Waterworks and Electric Light Plant.

HUNDREDS OF SIGNATURES ARE BEING PROCURED

Many petitions are now being circulated among the people of this community at present, getting signatures that advocate municipal ownership promulgated by the documents which stipulate that the signers of the petition are attaching their names to a paper that is to be submitted to the council and aldermen of this city, urging that there be placed before the people the question of voting bonds for the purpose of erecting waterworks by the city and also for the object of enlarging the city's electric lighting plant so apparatus sufficient can be installed to supply lights for commercial purposes. One of the parties at the head of the movement yesterday said that they were having no trouble in securing signatures, as almost every person approached attached their names to the documents except those who were either interested in corporations or had friendly leaning toward the private institutions.

There are about half a dozen of these documents being circulated among the people and hundreds of names have already been attached to the paper, and just whenever there is procured the number of names deemed advisable the documents will be placed before the legislative boards requesting that an election be called for the object mentioned.

The parties at the head of the movement are very enthusiastic, as they state they never saw such an interest manifested, as everybody approached quickly see the feasibility and economical feature of the proposition and lend their efforts towards interesting others in the question.

It will probably be about the first Monday in March that the question will be placed before the council, and then passed to the aldermanic body the Thursday following, to get their opinions upon the project.

Many of the leading citizens of the town have expressed their hearty approval and co-operation of the proposition and will do all in their power for its successful culmination, they realizing that public ownership of a water plant, and then facilities to supply commercial lighting, are avenues through which tax reductions can be procured, and make the municipality independent to a certain extent. One of the parties with the petition yesterday said that go out of every 100 persons approached had attached their names, and that the movement looked like an overwhelming success, judging from the favorable expressions heard.

Property Sold.

Property lying in the county on the Husbands road has been sold by G. Husbands to Theodore Hovekamp for $600, and the deed lodged for record with the county clerk.

Loeb & Bloom sold to Theodore Hovekamp for $500 property on Island creek, in the county.

Jessie Harris purchased from W. D. Helton for $150, land on the Woodville and Lovelaceville road in the county.

Alben Barkley bought from Thomas C. Leach for $1,250 property on the south side of Monroe, between Eleventh and Twelfth streets.

Josephine Bougeno sold to Clamblin and Murray for $125 property lying on Thurman street.

Licensed to Wed.

Dean Shofner, aged 27, and Maude Augustus, aged 28, were granted a license to marry. This is the first venture for the groom and the second for the bride. Both reside here. The young man is a machinist's helper at the shops.

Cairo offers to sell Iron Man Holy cross to Danville for $120, guaranteeing that he will not be disturbed by New York. Cairo Citizen. Cairo don't want much for a bunch of iron. It looks like the Egyptian manager is trying to hold up the new member.

NEW FIGURES

Mr. Bleecker Calculates On "Moonlight" Schedule

THE MATTER TO BE SETTLED THIS WEEK.

One Official Says Public Need Not Be Worried About the Question.

ONE-SIXTH CUT ON "MOONLIGHT" SCHEDULE

Yesterday General Manager John S. Bleecker of the street railway and light company, submitted a second proposition to the light committee, of the municipal legislative boards, quoting figures for which he would keep up the city's street corner arc lights, on the "moonlight" schedule, which means that the lights will not be kept burning while the moon shines brightly. On figuring up the moonlight schedule Mr. Bleecker calculates that the lights will have to be kept burning 2,000 hours during twelve months, while to keep them going every night, it will call for a 4,000 hour service.

It is understood that this second proposition, together with the first one will be submitted at the legislative board meeting this week at the City Hall, and let the bodies decide what they want to do in the premises. There will also be placed before the entire membership figures showing what it will cost for the city to retain possession of its plant, and enlarge same to a capacity sufficient to care for the demands.

The supplemental proposition of Mr. Bleecker stipulates that his company will do as follows:

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 16, 1906.
To the light and water committee of the general council of the city of Paducah:

Gentlemen:

Referring to our letter of February 3, and answering further your request for a proposition to light the streets and public buildings of the city of Paducah, we quote you the following prices for moonlight schedule for street service of approximately 2,000 hours:

For 200 lamps to 249 lamps....	$52.50
For 250 lamps to 299 lamps....	$2.00
For 300 lamps to 349 lamps....	$1.50
For 350 lamps to 399 lamps....	$1.00
For 400 lamps to 499 lamps....	$0.50
For 500 lamps and over.....	$0.00

This is for the year 1906 to 1912, inclusive. For the year 1913 to 1916, inclusive, whatever number of lights may be required, $50.00 per lamp per year.

We will furnish 32 C. P. series incandescent lamps at the rate of $13.50 per lamp per year.

This schedule does not in any way effect the proposition made in our letter of February 3, except as regards the prices and schedule above quoted.

One city official in speaking on the supplemental figures, yesterday said that at that rate it would cost the city more than for the company to furnish the lights the year around, because it was a known fact that the moon shone brightly for more than one full week each month, which was a one-fourth reduction, but that the figures of Mr. Bleecker showed a cut of only about one-sixth, therefore if the plant was to be "farmed out" it would be better to take the lights for every night. He closed, however, with the assertion that nobody need bother, as the city would continue operating its own system, and never permit a private concern to get its tentacles grapples upon the community, despite the fact that some of the friends of the corporation in the public boards were working like beavers to throw everything into hands of the private concern, and in that manner forever tie the hands of the liberty loving citizens.

Many people yesterday said that these figures offered have never yet calculated upon what the decay the city's plant will amount to if let lay idle for a period of years, which would render it absolutely worthless.

Dedrick Estate.

John Dedrick yesterday qualified before the county court as administrator of the estate of the late William Dedrick, while York Dedrick qualified as guardian of Jessie, and Lora Dedrick, children of the deceased. Messrs. Houser and Derrington were then selected appraisers to inventory the estate of the deceased.

KNOWN HERE

Ben Daniels Arrested For Fraud in Arizona.

FORMER METROPOLIS MAN WELL KNOWN HERE.

Related to Jesse James and Would Fight at "Droy of the Hat."

HIS CLEVER ESCAPE FROM METROPOLIS JAIL.

Word comes from Nogales, Arizona, that Ben Daniels, a United States marshal, has been arrested on a fraud charge. Hans Larson, the complainant, states that Daniels sold him a mine in the Harshaw district a year ago for $800 and that when he went to do the assessment work James Harrison, supervisor of Santa Cruz county, claimed the property was his. Larson demanded a return of the money, which Daniels refused and the arrest on fraud followed.

Daniels was a Rough Rider. He was appointed marshal last fall but has not yet been confirmed by the senate. Daniels says the case looks much to him like blackmail. Because his confirmation is still pending in the senate he says he thinks those who caused his arrest supposed he could not afford to stand trial and would readily give up the $800 demanded.

Ben Daniels formerly lived at Metropolis, Ill., a few miles below Paducah, and during his career there was a saloonist and gambler of repute. This has probably been 20 years ago. Later he got into a difficulty at Brookport, Ill., and killed a man with a billiard cue. He was arrested and placed in jail at Metropolis.

One day his attorney, Judge B. O. Jones, deceased, was in the corridor of the jail interviewing him. The door was left unlocked and there was easy access to the street. He made a dash and escaped to the Kentucky shore in a skiff. It was rumored at that time that the escape had been pre-arranged as a skiff was in waiting at the foot of Metropolis street.

Daniels went to the Indian Territory. After a few years he came back by way of Paducah and visited his family at Metropolis under the cover of darkness.

On one occasion Daniels was in Paducah in a North Fourth street saloon when the police department was notified he was here and badly wanted for murder. Daniels got the information about the same time and suddenly disappeared.

It is now stated that the charge at Metropolis has been dismissed and he in the last few years has gone boldly into the little city, but the writer is in doubt about this statement as Ben Daniels has not been in this section of the country for several years.

Out West Daniels did well and became a U. S. marshal owing to his bravery. Indirectly he was related to Jesse James, the notorious outlaw, and there is no question but what he possessed as much grit, for his nerve has often been tested. Like Jesse he always escaped, but the former came to a sudden end at the hands of his closest friend.

There are a number of people in Paducah who will remember Ben Daniels.

INCORPORATED.

GLENWOOD REALTY COMPANY FILED ARTICLES WITH COUNTY CLERK.

In the county court yesterday there were filed articles of incorporation for the "Glenwood Realty company" which capitalizes at $20,300, with the stock divided into shares of $100 each. The stock is subscribed for as follows: H. R. Lindsay, 100 shares; Ed D. Thurman, 100 shares and John W. Behout 3 shares. The business of the concern is to handle real estate, while the highest amount of indebtedness permitted for contraction is $20,000.

Coffee House License. Henry Gallman, of 735 North Tenth street, yesterday sold his state coffee house license to Eberle, Hardin & Company, of 105 South Second street. The aldermen weeks before last took Gallman's license away from him because of complaints against disorder at the saloon. He is a member of the Republican school board.

Notary Public.

A. N. Sears qualified before the county court yesterday as a notary public.

CUT THE FORCE

THIS ORDINANCE WILL BE BROUGHT BEFORE COUNCIL TOMORROW.

Tomorrow evening at the meeting of the council there will be brought in the ordinance which directs that the police force of this city be reduced to eighteen patrolmen, one chief, one captain and one lieutenant. The proper committee last week instructed the city solicitor to draw up this bill which he has done, and it will be brought in for adoption.

There also comes up tomorrow evening during the gathering of the councilmen the resolution adopted two weeks ago by the aldermen, and which provides that if any saloon-keeper or his employe violates the city law between now and next June that the license of the guilty grog-shop proprietor will be taken away. The aldermen adopted this document the night they rejected seven saloon licenses, and the resolution had the effect of causing nearly all the grog-shops to be closed last Sabbath.

One warrant was issued against Geo. Goodman but the case cannot come to trial because the witnesses are Mayfield people who have not responded to the subpoenas to come here and testify. No warrant was gotten out for Oscar Baker, bartender of John Elrod's saloon, on account of the witnesses never showing up. In the Goodman case parties claimed they bought many quarts of liquor there, while others in the Baker case contend that the bartender sold them several quarts.

It is believed that things will be tight today and "the lid squarely on" so that no one can buy a thing in the drink line.

LEFT OPEN

CUMBERLAND TELEPHONE COMPANY GETS UNUSUAL PRIVILEGES.

Auditor Says Much Property Is Not Paid On, Therefore Rate May Be $1.60.

The board of city supervisors yesterday accorded to the Cumberland Telephone company a privilege not granted to any other concern or individual in this city, that of leaving open the assessment that company's system is to be valued at for municipal taxes for this year. In doing this the supervisors left the proposition open until to-morrow so the lawyers for the company could come before the board and offer their reasons why the company's properties should not be raised in valuation for tax purposes from $40,000 to $100,000.

Ten days ago the supervisors finished hearing complaints from property owners whose assessments were raised. The figures were then definitely fixed and the complaint question closed. Many have wanted to appear before the board since then but the supervisors absolutely refused but now the old telephone company ask this request, which is willingly granted them by the supervisors in order that the concern's lawyers can come before the body tomorrow and show cause why there should be reduced from the $100,000 fixed, the valuation of their properties. The supervisors will close their report this afternoon and hand same in to the council tonight.

Just as soon as the aldermen pass on the document Thursday night it will be referred to the finance committee so the rate of taxation can be figured up and set for this year.

City Auditor Kirkland yesterday stated that if taxes were collected upon every piece of property assessed in the city the tax rate could be made at the $1.51 it figures out, but that many thousands of dollars worth of property exist here off of which no taxes will be collected, and that although it is put up for sale as delinquent and bought in by the city, still this does not add to the public treasury the money derived if taxes were paid on it. This natural withdrawal of collections from the city, and other shortages makes it so that the rate will probably be as high as $1.60, which will net more money than appropriated.

LITTLE ROCK OWNS LIGHTING PLANT; OPERATES AT COST 32.50 PER LIGHT

Mr. Little Rock, Ark., Feb. 15, 1906.
Paducah, Ky.
Dear Sir: Replying to your inquiry in regard to the cost of electric lights in this city, beg to reply that the city owns its own electric lighting plant which has been purchased and operated at a cost of about $55,000, and with which we are now furnishing 340 lights in the city. The actual operating expenses of same last year, not including taxes or depreciation, was $11,773.00 which, as you will see, is about $35.50 per lamp per year.
Very respectfully,
W. E. LENON, Mayor.

TO ALL WHO WAIT AT MEETING

PARTIES WHO TRIED CHEAT THE REGISTER HAVE TROUBLES.

Friedman & Nahn Trying to Make Back What They Paid Register—Mrs. Allison Appeals.

The defendant yesterday in the circuit court filed a general demurrer to plaintiff's petition, in the litigation of Joe Friedman and Max B. Nahn against William Katterjohn. The defendant claims the plaintiffs have no cause for action against him.

Friedman and Nahn put up at 510 Broadway a one-story building that was occupied by The Register, which gave permission for an additional story to be put on by the owners who gave the work to Contractor Katterjohn. The roof had to be taken off in adding the other story and while this was being done, torrents of rain poured into the new paper plant and damaged things greatly. The Register sued Nahn & Friedman and got judgment for over $2,000, while those who now sue Contractor Katterjohn on the ground that he is to blame for the damage to the paper plant. Katterjohn, though, claims he had an agreement with Nahn & Friedman which releases him from any responsibility.

The defendant was ordered to pay over to the plaintiff $1,038.93 in the suit of the Paducah Towing company against the Provident-Washington Insurance company. Plaintiff's barge got damaged while defendant had an indemnifying policy on the craft.

There was ordered stricken from the docket the suit of W. R. Howell and R. H. Reed against Dona Lee Carney-Thompson.

An agreement was filed stipulating that the attachment bond was not to be sued on in the litigation of I. B. Wilford against J. D. Render, two business partners that got into trouble over notes they executed in buying out a third partner. They compromised the suit and now agree that no litigation will rise over the attachment bond.

The plaintiff's motion for a new trial was overruled and an appeal taken in the suit of Ida Steinbraker against the Paducah City Railway company. Plaintiff got thrown from defendant's car and was painfully injured.

The bill of evidence and exceptions were filed in support of the appeal taken in the suit of Mary E. Allison against the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance company. The late H. C. Allison let lapse his policy he had in this company, and after his death the widow sued on same on the ground that his accumulated benefits extended the insurance beyond time of his death. Judge Reed decided in favor of the company and now Mrs. Allison takes the matter higher.

Lost Collar.

Officer John McCune last evening late found lying on the street a brown fur collar which he left at this office where the owner can procure same. The muff has black ends with brown in the middle, resembling fox fur.

Grace Episcopal.

Bishop Woodcock, of the Kentucky diocese, will commence his week's mission here today, and outside the announcement made yesterday morning, has arranged for children's services to be conducted at 4:15 o'clock the afternoon of Tuesday and Thursday of this week.

Got Bad.

"Doc" Jackson and Warner Reed were arrested last night at Ninth and Harrison, on the charge of being drunk and disorderly.

The Week in Society.

Prominent Young Couple.

With much joy and pleasure by everybody will there be greeted the announcement of the approaching nuptials of two of the city's most prominent young people possessing hosts of friends who extend their sincere wishes. The couple are Miss Mae A. Bleich and Mr. Joseph D. Sowers, who will be married at 2 o'clock the afternoon of Tuesday, February 27th, at the home of the bride's parents, on Clark near Ninth street.

The wedding will be a very quiet affair, on account of the recent bereavements in the family of the young lady and only the immediate relatives will be present to witness the happy event that will be officiated over by Rev. William Bourquin, of the German Evangelical church, on South Fifth street. Immediately after the nuptials the couple leave for a two weeks' bridal tour to St. Louis, Chicago and other Northern points, from whence they return March 12th, to be at home to their friends in 717 Clark street.

Highly esteemed and unusually popular are the contracting parties that number friends of everybody. The beautiful young bride is a Paducah girl by birth and breeding, a graduate of the schools with high honors, and an unusually highly educated and cultured young woman of many accomplishments, that never fail to attract numerous admirers and friends. Hers is of a striking brunette type of beauty that has always been such a pleasing source of admiration to everybody, as is also her many graces and winsome manners. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Bleich, former the jeweler, and a granddaughter of the late George Rock, one of the city's wealthiest and most prominent men of ability.

Mr. Sowers has resided in this city just little over one year, but in that short space of time he has amply evidenced his sterling nature and progressiveness, especially from a business standpoint, being conservative, yet of that forward push that forges things to the front. He is an expert jewelry man and came here from St. Louis last year to become manager of Bleich establishment which has an able business man by his association. He is one of the most congenial and pleasing gentlemen ever locating here and has everywhere friends who hope for him and his elegant bride all the happiness their lot merits through life.

Odd Fellows' Ball.

The Odd Fellow lodges of this city are preparing to give grand ball the evening of April 16th, but have not yet decided where to conduct it.

Luncheon for Niece.

Mrs. Lili G. Boone, of South Sixth street, near Washington, will entertain next Thursday with a 1 o'clock luncheon, complimentary to her niece, Miss Nell Howard. Covers will be laid for twelve.

For Sans Souci Club.

Mrs. Harris Rankin has issued invitations for a card party the afternoon of next Wednesday, at the Palmer. It will be complimentary to the Sans Souci club, of which she is a popular member.

Daughter's Birthday.

Mrs. Stella Dickey, of 321 Elizabeth street, Wednesday evening entertained a few friends in honor of the eleventh birthday of her charming daughter, Miss Edna Dickey, who received many pretty remembrances from those there. Games, refreshments and a generally jolly time was the order of the evening for the little folks.

Those in the party were: Misses Florence Senger, Clara Senger, Rella Wagner, Emma Nichols and Nelson Broadfoot, Raymond Finney, Gordon Finney and Eddie Senger.

Renowned Singer.

In pursuing their musicale and vocal studies and entertainments the members of the Matinee Musicale club are trying to get a number of celebrated characters to appear here in their tours over the country. One of the best known and most talented is David Bisham, the superb singer, who will pass through this section during next month en route South. The club members are attempting to have him appear here but have not as yet received any definite responses to their urgent request. If he comes and sings under the auspices of this leading club, it is needless to say a mammoth audience of music-loving devotees will greet him.

The club conducted its bi-weekly meeting at the Eagle quarters last Wednesday and spent the afternoon with Hayden, Handel and Mozart, under the able leadership of Mrs. J. Dennis McQuot. Quite a number of visitors were present, as it was an open meeting, and each member permitted to invite two guests.

Miss Boswell Guest of Honor.

Mrs. Charles Viele, a recent bride, with Miss Mary Boswell, of Paducah, Ky., who is visiting the hostess of the occasion were the honored guests for a delightful "afternoon" at cards given Wednesday by Mrs. Frank Byrnes, Jr., entertaining forty guests at her home on South Second street. There were seven tables for progressive euchre arranged in the drawing room, point euchre being played.

Carrying off the honors of the game were Miss Marie Cunningham, who was the winner of a beautiful Doulton plate, and Mrs. Howard Roosa, whose trophy was a handsome brass candlestick.

Miss Arabelle Walden, of Owensboro, Ky., was an out-of-town guest of the occasion.

Following the game a delightful luncheon was served in two courses at the card table. In keeping with the valentine sentiment were the heart-shaped sandwiches and dainty valentines as tallies, which were pretty souvenirs of the event.

Mrs. James Thomas assisted the hostess in keeping the score, etc.

The hostess wore a becoming gown of blue chiffon taffeta inset with white lace, her sister, Mrs. Viele, being very handsome in pink crepe de chine with pink hat, her flowers being American Beauties. Miss Boswell's costume was of lavender crepe de chine with lace. Mrs. Thomas wearing blue crepe cloth lace trimmed. —Evansville Courier.

Flower Cotillion.

A flower cotillion will be given on next Friday evening by the older pupils of the dancing class of Professor Mahler, who has been here the past month instructing a large number of pupils in the terepsichorean art.

Church Entertainment.

Two very charming affairs were given the past week by societies of different churches, and both were participated in by very large crowds who were treated to an evening of real and appreciative enjoyment. Tuesday evening at the handsome residence of Mrs. William Eades, of Jefferson, near Ninth street, the Ramsey society of the Broadway Methodist church entertained with a dainty Valentine party. The following evening at the lecture room of the First Presbyterian church the Ladies' Aid society of that congregation entertained with a bazaar and musicale for the benefit of the carpet fund.

Coming Nuptials.

At 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of Tuesday, February 27th, there will be united in marriage Miss Theresa Hummel, of this city, and Mr. Otto Edwin Gross, of St. Louis. The ceremony occurs at the German Lutheran church on South Fourth street, but will be witnessed by only a few intimate friends in addition to the relatives. Rev. A. C. Ilten officiates.

The bride is the cultured and exceedingly popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Hummel, Jr., of Harrison street between Fifth and sixth.

The enterprising young groom is a machinist formerly residing here but several months ago went to St. Louis to make his home. They will make their home in the Future Great.

Paducah Girls.

A dispatch from Washington, D. C., says regarding two charming Paducah girls who are there: A Kentucky belle at the capital is Miss Henrietta Koger, of Paducah, who is the guest of Miss May Phelps, of the navy, at the Partner. Miss Koger was especially admired at a large ball at the Washington barracks. Preceding the dance, she was the honored guest at a handsome dining, decorated with spring posies and rare Japanese embroideries—given by Capt. and Mrs. Earl Brown of the Barracks.

Miss Elizabeth Atkins, in a toilet of white chiffon and lace, a Paducah school girl beauty, assisted Mrs. Piles, wife of the senator from distant Washington, in her reception this week. Mrs. Piles was Miss Bernard, of Paducah.

In Honor of Mother.

Mrs. Clifford M. Budd, of Broadway, near Seventh street, Monday afternoon entertained a few friends at cards complimentary to her mother, Mrs. Lafayette, of Cincinnati, who is her charming guest. Green and pink were the attractive color-scheme decorations that prevailed throughout the elegant luncheon. The first prize went to Mrs. Charles James, of Evansville, the second to Miss Faith Langstaff, and the lone hand to Mrs. J. Victor Voris. Those present were: Mesdames Thomas Leech, W. B. McPherson, J. C. Utterback, Eli Boone, Victor Voris, Hal Corbett, Will Bradshaw Jr., O. L. Gregory, Jessie Nash, J. W. Keller, Chas. James, of Evansville; S. W. Glover, Armour Gardner, Laura Fowler, Joseph Friedman, Saunders Fowler, Luke Russell, R. G. Terrell and Misses Faith Langstaff and Carrie Phillips, of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Budd entertains at cards again tomorrow afternoon in honor of her mother.

For Mrs. Webb and Mrs. Phillips.

Mrs. Hamilton Parks was the hostess of a luncheon of unusual beauty of arrangement Thursday, given in compliment to her guests, her mother, Mrs. J. L. Webb, and sister Mrs. Robert Phillips of Paducah, Ky., who are being extended a number of pretty social courtesies. The parlor was effectively decorated in Jackson vines and a profusion of pink carnations, and the library and dining-room were in crimson and green, with red shaded lights on the xinchung chandeliers. The table, at which a congenial party of sixteen guests was accommodated, was veiled with damask and lace, and in the centre was a great bouquet of meteor roses in a cut-glass vase. At each side were colonial brass candlesticks with crimson flower shaded tapers, and similar shaded lights on the vining chandeliers. Red heart valentines, to which meteor roses were attached, marked the places, and the same color was in evidence in the elaborate nine-course menu served, the fruit parfait, garnished with crimson rosebuds, being especially pretty. Mrs. Parks appeared in a white etamine and lace, and Mrs. Webb in a black chiffon crepe, with touches of real lace. Mrs. Phillips wore white panne crepe, combined with Duchess lace. —Nashville Banner.

The Five Hundred Club.

Mrs. Ben Weille, of Eighth and Jefferson, is the hostess for the meeting of the 500 club next Tuesday afternoon.

Entre Nous Club.

The Entre Nous club will be entertained next Tuesday afternoon by Miss Louise Cox, at her home on Fountain avenue.

Sunday School Class.

The Tenth street Christian church Sunday school class of Mrs. Quincy Wallace, of 122 Jackson street, was entertained Friday evening by that lady, and a happy time was had by the young people.

Colonial Cotillion.

The dancing class of Prof. Mahler will give a colonial cotillion Thursday afternoon in honor of Washington's birthday. It is for the younger members of the large class he instructs.

Interesting Reading.

The evening of February 27th a very delightful reading will be conducted at the Broadway Methodist church by Miss Mabel Maitland, of Dyersburg, Tenn., a very cultured and versatile young lady of recognized ability.

The Casino Club.

Mr. John Rose and wife, of 931 Trimble street, entertained quite a crowd of friends Wednesday evening at their home, complimentary to the Casino club. It was a valentine affair teeming with numerous interesting features.

Annual Ball.

The annual ball of the Bricklayers' union was given Wednesday evening at the Brunswick hall, over the bowl alley on Broadway near Fifth street. About 100 were there enjoying themselves until a late hour, it being a masque affair.

Charity Tea.

The ladies of the Charity club will give one of the most beautiful charity teas of the past few years in the Palmer parlors next Thursday afternoon from 3 until 5 o'clock. Wafers, tea and light refreshments will be served, while those there will voluntarily contribute to the charity fund.

Magazine Club.

The Magazine club will be entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Saunders A. Fowler, at her home in "Edgewood," between West End and Arcadia. The periodicals to be reported on are Literary Digest, Everybody's, Booklover, Cosmopolitan, Century, Scribner and Gertrude Atherton.

Washington's Birthday.

Next Thursday is Washington's Birthday and will be recognized in the public schools, Supt. C. M. Lieb yesterday announcing that the students would be dismissed Wednesday afternoon, and not come back until Friday morning. There will not be any exercises or programme in the different rooms, complimentary to the anniversary of the birth of the Father of Our Country.

The library trustees have ordered that the library, at Ninth and Broadway, be closed all of that day out of respect to the dead of years ago. The Daughters of the American Revolution have decided not to give any entertainment or other affair in celebration of the anniversary, like they have done heretofore.

Valentine Party.

Miss Emily Upton, of New Orleans, Friday afternoon entertained a party of young lady friends with a charming Valentine party at the residence of her aunt, Mrs. Dr. D. G. Murrell, of Broadway, near Seventh street. The afternoon was charmingly spent at cards, the tallies for which were be-ribboned heart-shaped valentines, with pictures of ye belles and beaux of olden times.

The prize was a group of violets gayly bunched with ribbons. The gathering was one of exceeding delight to the select few there.

Farewell Affair.

One of the prettiest entertainments given by the ladies of Smithland for quite a while, was that given Tuesday afternoon to the members of the Woman's Missionary society and a few invited guests, by Miss Laura Champion in honor of Mrs. John K.

Hendrick, who is soon to leave for Paducah.

Features of the entertainment given were as follows: Pink pasteboard hearts were passed to each of the guests with the request to write a valentine, and the collection was one of comic and sentimental poetic and prose productions of rare species. Next was the passing of twelve heart shaped paper bags of beans which resulted in a confusion of tongues and a great rattle and clatter of loose beans upon the floor. Then five minute attempt at seriousness, which was anything but serious. Refreshments of pink and white cake with pink cream came next as a very enjoyable feature. Then two members at a time engaged in a "so say, say you without laughing" feature. In this, all gave way to temptation to laugh except Miss David Cowper and Mrs. Nettie Presnell, Mrs. W. I. Clarke and Mrs. L. T. Worten, Mrs. E. B. Sedberry and Miss Mattie Wilson, who received prizes for their seriousness. Then Mrs. Hendrick was presented with a book by the hostess.—Livingston Banner.

Wedding Anniversaries.

Dr. and Mrs. Ohio Powell, of 612 Madison street, Wednesday evening entertained a number of friends complimentary to the first anniversary of their marriage.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Harry Collins informally entertained their friends out of compliment to the first anniversary of their union also. Both were charming affairs very enjoyable to those there.

Theatrical Parties.

Many Paducahans have gone to Memphis, Tenn., the past week to witness the Ben Hur performance which had an unprecedented run there, giving two productions daily before thousands of people. It goes to Nashville today for a week's stay.

Yesterday there returned from Memphis where they witnessed the play, Mrs. W. J. Hills, Misses Blanche, Grace and Helen Hills, Susan Wetherall, Belle Cave of here, and Mrs. Irvin McArthur and Miss Leon Kessel, of Michigan, the two latter of whom are guests at the Hill home, on North Ninth street.

Birthday Affair.

Many friends were entertained Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Finis Scott, of 1339 Jackson street, complimentary to the thirty-third anniversary of the birth of the former. Many games were indulged in, and dainty refreshments partaken of.

Those there were: Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Akers, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Schaffer, Mrs. John Adams, Mrs. John Gorman, Mrs. J. E. Deloach; Misses Cora Woods, Minnie Simmons, Annie Stein, Mary Easley, Willie Ridder; Messrs. Earl G. Griffin, Albert Scott and Jack Kirkman.

Konus Club.

Mr. Clifford Blackburn, of South Eleventh street, was host for the meeting Tuesday evening of the Konus club that spent a most charming time as guests of this popular young man. During the card game the gentleman's gift went to Mr. Jack Parkham, while Miss Ethel McMahon took that for the young lady, and the host that for the best lone hand.

During the evening a business session was held and new officers chosen, as follows: John Cathey, president; Clifford Blackburn, vice president; Mrs. Myrtle Parkham, secretary, and Mr. Jack Parkham official puncher.

Mrs. Jack Parkham, of South Sixth, entertains the club the coming Tuesday.

In Honor of Visitors.

Mrs. W. J. Hills and daughter, Miss Helen Hills, of North Ninth street, will Friday entertain at cards, complimentary to their charming guests, Mrs. Irvin McArthur, of La Pierre, Mich., and Miss Leone Kessel, of Pontiac, Mich.

Play by Scholars.

The members of the Dramatic club of the Paducah High school, are preparing to present an entertaining little play, the work of a gifted affiliate of that body, Miss Carry Ham, one of the brightest of the students. The play is entitled "Dead Brokers" and the club is now arranging to produce same at the auditorium of the Washington building on West Broadway. The young people are naturally taking much additional interest in this piece, realizing it is the compilation of their popular associate.

Afternoon Tea.

Mrs. Elbridge Palmer, of West Clark street, Thursday afternoon entertained a party of friends with a charming tea, complimentary to Mrs. E. C. Hendricks, of Washington, D. C., who resided here many years ago, and is mother of Mr. Calvin Hendricks, chief engineer of the mammoth sewerage system intended for Baltimore.

Mrs. Hendricks is a very versatile and talented woman warmly greeted by her many friends here. Those at the tea were Judge and Mrs. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Given Campbell, Mrs. Florence McQuot, Mrs. Mary McQuot Watson, Mrs. D. M. Flournoy, Mrs. Mary Alexander, Captain and Mrs. Harrison Watts, Mrs.

Delphic Club.

Mrs. Muscoe Burnett presented a paper Tuesday morning at the Delphic club meeting, on "Maria-Theresa-The Court," Mrs. George C. Wallace reported on Louise de la Vallerie and Miss Kathleen Whitefield on "Madame Sevigne." All were very entertaining and instructive.

Mrs. Reeves' Party.

At her charming home on Eighth and Jefferson streets Mrs. Robert L. Reeves entertained with a delightful card party Wednesday afternoon. The tables were filled with animated players, and during the game Mrs. Richard G. Terrell captured the game trophy, while that for the lone hand went to Mrs. Victor Voris. Each of the gifts were pretty hand painted pieces of chinaware. Following the cards a most tempting and delightful luncheon was partaken of by the guests.

Masquerade Party.

Quite a number of friends were entertained Thursday evening by Miss Gartrude Voight with a Valentine masquerade party, which furnished huge enjoyment to all, the masques of many being very comical and amusing. During the evening the little folks whiled away the several happy hours at varied diversions, while dainty refreshments were served. Master Nelson Broadfoot captured the prize as being the best masqued guest.

Afternoon at Cards.

The apartments of Mrs. Hubbard Wells, in the Empire flats, on Broadway, near Seventh street, were the scene of a charming card party Friday afternoon. The affair was one of a patriotic nature with decorations of red white and blue, while conspicuous amongst the arrangements were several beautifully draped American flags.

Mrs. Lineas Orm took the game prize, while to Miss Clara Thompson fell that for the best lone hand player. Fourteen tables were filled with players, who after the game, enjoyed a sumptuous repast served by the entertaining hostess.

As You Like It Club.

Most pleasantly was the As You Like It club entertained Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armour Gardner, of Fountain avenue, near Broadway. Being the week of Valentine appropriate features prevailed at the charming assembly of the ladies and gentlemen, both in the decorations, game and luncheon.

Nine tables were filled with players, including the club members, and supplementary guests to fill vacant places. The club trophy went to Mrs. J. Victor Voris, while Mrs. James E. English captured that for the visitors. The gentlemen's gift was taken by Mr. Henry Rudy. Following the cards an attractive course luncheon was partaken of.

Entre Nous Club.

Miss Ethel Brooks of Seventh and Madison streets entertained most happily the Entre Nous club Thursday afternoon, at which time the Valentine features prevailed, the decorations being red and white, while the tally cards were heart-shaped in arrangement.

Misses Retta Hatfield and Leone Kessel captured the gifts for the game that was followed with service of a light luncheon.

Those there were: Misses Lillie Mae Winstead, Nell Holland, Blanche Hills, Marjorie Bagby, Louise Cox, Retta Hatfield, Monima Hopkins, May Owen, Robbie Loving, Rella and Frances Coleman, Susie Thompson, Frances Terrell, Lillie Mae McGlathery, Ethel Brooks.

Mrs. McCandless' Party.

At her elegant home, on West Jefferson street, Mrs. John McCandless yesterday afternoon entertained quite a party of friends at cards, complimentary to Mrs. Samuel McCandless of Saginaw, Mich., who is visiting at that home. The home was beautifully decorated with a scheme of red which proved unusually attractive.

Those there were: Mesdames Allen Ashcraft, Henry Hughes, J. C. Flournoy, Victor Voris, W. A. Gardner, Muscoe Burnett, J. E. English, William Gilbert, Clifford Budd, William McPherson, William Marble Robert MacMillen, C. C. Warren, George B. Hart, Hubbard Wells, W. B. Mills, Luke Russell, Harry Williamson, Irvin McArthur, of Lapeer, Mich.; Percy Paxton, John Donovan, C. L. Van Meter, John Little, Clara Culley, James P. Lafey, of Cincinnati; Misses Faith Langstaff, Monima Hopkins, Frances Herndon, Susan Wetherall, Blanche Hills, Flora Hall, of Louisville; Zella Russell of Athens, Ala.; Leone Kessel, of Pontiac, Mich.; Anne Sherrill Baird.

Charming Assembly.

The home of Mrs. James Utterback, in Arcadia, was the scene of a most delightful assembly Tuesday afternoon when this popular matron delightfully entertained many at cards. The handsome residence

FOLLOWING THE LUNCHEON

Washington, D. C., Feb. 17.—No social event in the history of this country has ever attracted as much interest in all sections of the country and among all classes of the population, as the wedding of Alice Roosevelt, eldest daughter of President Roosevelt, to Congressman Nicholas Longworth, of Ohio. The popularity of Miss Roosevelt's father, coupled with the undeniable fact that all the world loves a lover, particularly if that lover is the daughter of the chief executive of the country and has endeared herself by her naturalness and Democratic ways, has made the wedding of Miss Roosevelt a national event in the full sense of the word. The wedding came quite near being considered an international event, and, to some extent, has assumed that character, although President Roosevelt, with true Democratic spirit, tried his best to prevent it. There was a time when Frances Folsom, who became the wife of President Cleveland, while the latter was in office, was the most popular woman in the country, but her popularity and the interest taken in the great event of her life, were as nothing compared with the universal and sympathetic interest taken everywhere in Alice Roosevelt's wedding.

The Arrival of the Guests.

The beginning of the ceremony had been set for high noon, but the first carriages with guests began to arrive shortly after eleven o'clock, and when the noon hour approached, there was an uninterrupted line of carriages depositing their occupants at the hospitable door of the White House.

It had been intended to limit the number of guests who were to be present at the wedding in the East room to 850, but it is safe to say that this number was exceeded by several hundred.

Women in beautiful gowns, men of distinguished appearance, in military uniforms, the rich garb of the diplomatic corps of the less picturesque costume prescribed for ordinary civilians at noonday functions of this character, crowded the space reserved for the invited guests and awaited patiently the beginning of the ceremony.

The Wedding Ceremony.

A few minutes before noon Bishop Satterlee, of Washington, and the Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, who were to perform, respectively assist in the ceremony, arrived in the East room and took their places within the enclosure of white ribbons, forming a barrier around the floral altar. A few minutes later the bridegroom, accompanied by his best man, Mr. Thomas Nelson Perkins, entered the room and took their positions at the side of the altar, where they awaited the arrival of the bride party.

Several of the aides of the president acted as floor managers and unobtrusively mingled with the spectators, to prevent crowding.

At the stroke of twelve the Marine Band in the lobby began to play the wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin," and at the same moment the bridal party started in two columns toward the East room.

The bridal party proper descended from the upper floor by way of the private stairway, between the state dining room and the breakfast room and moved through the wide corridor which runs 170 feet from West to East in the mansion, to the East room.

The bride leaned on her father's arm and walked with stately and dignified steps. Mrs. Roosevelt walked with her son Kermit, Miss Ethel with her brother Archibald and the baby of the family, Quentin, was conducted by his cousin, William S. Gowles, Jr., the only son of Capt. and Mrs. William S. Gowles, Mrs. George C. Lee, the venerable grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. William S. Gowles walked together and were followed by the other members of the Lee, Roosevelt and Longworth families who had come from all parts of the country to attend the wedding.

The eight ushers selected by the bridegroom awaited the bridal party at the foot of the stairs and preceded them to the East room, where they arranged themselves, four on each side, forming an aisle. They held white ribbons in such a way that they formed an arch, beneath which the bridal party marched toward the altar. The ushers were Quincy Adams Shaw, of Boston; Frederick Winthrop, of New York; Francis R. Bangs, of Boston; Guy Norman, of Boston; B. A. Wallingford, of Cincinnati;

Larz Anderson, of Washington, D. C.; the Vicomte Charles de Chambrun and Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the eldest son of the president.

The Critical Moment.

The wedding ceremony was conducted in accordance with the ritual of the Episcopal church, Bishop Satterlee officiating and the Rev. Dr. Roland Cotton Smith assisting in the ceremony. During the progress of the ceremony the boys' choir of St. John's church sang a number of sacred selections, including Mr. Longworth's favorite, "Be Thou Faithful Unto Death," from "Elijah," and a selection from the Song of Solomon, "My Beloved Cometh."

When the critical moment arrived and Bishop Satterlee asked the all-important question, the bride answered with a firm and clearly audible "I will." The answer of the bridegroom, although undoubtedly also in the affirmative, was by no means as audible as the answer of his fair bride partner.

After the ceremony the ushers, who had been guarding the approach to the floral altar, formed in line and preceded the bridal party on their recessional, while the Marine Band played an animated march.

Immediately following the ushers walked the newly married couple and the other members of the family marched in pairs behind them. The cortege ascended to the upper floor by way of the state stairway, on the East side of the building, instead of returning by way of the private stairway.

The Bridal Dress.

Miss Alice Roosevelt looked lovely in her magnificent bridal costume. The gown was cut in Princess style, which is particularly becoming to the slender and graceful figure of the bride. It was of pearl white satin, showing a design of roses outlined in silver thread on the plain background. The material was specially woven in one of the Paterson, N. J., silk mills and the design then destroyed to prevent duplication. The skirt was plain and tight fitting around the hips and waist, with no trimming whatever. The bodice was tight fitting as far as the bust, where it draped softly in crosswise folds, the fronts fastening in alternate tabs, showing a vest of soft tulle, which began at the end of the yoke. The transparent yoke was of real rose point lace, an heirloom of the Lee family. The sleeves were of elbow length, being finished with soft ruffles of the same lace. The train, fully three yards long, began at the shoulders, was of heavy white broche lined with plain white satin and finished on the sides and at the bottom with ruffles of chiffon.

The bridal veil, another family heirloom, was of soft tulle, falling almost to the bottom of the train. It was held by a spray of orange blossoms, falling loosely over the coiffure. The bride carried no flowers, but only a small, ivory bound prayer book the same which her mother carried at her wedding.

Miss Roosevelt had originally intended to use for her bridal dress some of the magnificent satins, brocades and other costly materials which had been presented to her by the Empress Dowager of China, and other Oriental potentates, whom she had visited during her trip last year. She changed her plans, however, upon the suggestion of the president, who called her attention to the fact that it would be more appropriate for her to select for her bridal dress only materials of American manufacture.

The Wedding Luncheon.

After the wedding party had left the East room the invited guests formed in groups and gradually made their way to the famous blue room, where the wedding luncheon was to be served. It was fully 1 o'clock when Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth made their appearance.

When Mrs. Longworth returned to the guests, she wore a charming reception gown of the richest white silk, cut low neck, trimmed with a bertha of rare lace, sleeves dropping off the shoulder into a puff, finished with a band of lace just about the elbow. The body of the skirt and the bodice was ornamented with beautiful embroidered butterflies of various sizes. The smaller ones in the upper part of the dress were flat, while the larger ones toward the bottom of the dress had raised wings. The young bride looked charming in the rich gown and radiantly happy.

The happy couple were surrounded by the guests, who showered their congratulations upon the groom and their most enthusiastic good wishes upon the bride. Young Mrs. Longworth displayed remarkable tact and received the felicitations of her numerous friends with dignity, which, however, did not altogether prevent occasional outbursts of youthful enthusiasm, one of her most characteristic charms.

The Wedding Gifts.

It is extremely doubtful whether any bride who was not a princess of royal blood was ever so overwhelmed with wedding presents as Mrs. Longworth.

For weeks wedding gifts of every description have been flowing into the White House, until the library was actually filled with the gifts. They came from every part of the United States, from every corner of the world and varied in value from a few dollars to a king's ransom.

Rich and Poor Contribute.

Nothing gives stronger proof of the popularity of the bride than the fact that the wedding presents sent to her from all parts of the world were by no means all sent by the wealthy people or the heads of governments. Many of the gifts came from comparatively poor people, farmers in some of the Western states, artisans and others not richly endowed with worldly goods. From those sources the bride has received enough vitals to feed a good sized family for a year. Among the gifts were potatoes, all kinds of vegetables and fruit, pumpkins, eggs and even coal in generous quantities.

Off On Their Wedding Trip.

The wedding luncheon and reception lasted until 3 o'clock, when Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth retired to prepare themselves for their departure on their wedding trip. An hour later the newly married couple was driven to the Pennsylvania station, where the special Pullman car "Republic," specially fitted up for the bridal trip, stood ready to receive them. Mrs. Longworth looked charming in her traveling gown of tan cloth, cut in princess style and with a short bolero jacket. The skirt was trimmed with folds of chiffon velvet of the same shade as the cloth. The upper part of the waist and sleeves were tan chiffon and lace. The little coat was trimmed with bands of velvet. With this costume she wore a tri-cornered hat of tan velvet, with a bird of paradise at the side, fastened with a tortoiseshell and silver buckle.

The final destination of the trip was carefully kept secret, but it is understood the couple will go South, probably to Georgia and will pay a visit to the home of her mother. Later they intend to spend a week or more at Palm Beach, Fla.

The car in which they will travel on their Southern trip, is a fairy palace on wheels. It is ten feet wide and eighty feet long and is equipped in the most artistic and luxurious manner.

The trip will only last about three weeks, as the session of congress makes it necessary for Mr. Longworth to return to Washington. After their return the young couple will live at the John Davis Jones home on Eighteenth street, and Mrs. Nicholas Longworth, Sr., will take care of the household to relieve the young and inexperienced bride of all household duties.

After the adjournment of congress Mr. and Mrs. Longworth intend to go to Europe and spend some time in the capitals of the principal countries.

The lease of their house in Washington runs two years and then Mr. and Mrs. Longworth will go to Cincinnati, where they will reside at the Longworth mansion "Rookwood," which is a veritable museum filled with the most beautiful and costly art treasures.

COUNCIL ACCUSED OF GRAFT

Civil Federation of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Plans Crusade.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 17.—The reform wave has struck the Soo. A meeting will be held to form a civic federation to force the aldermen to do their duty. It is charged as one element of the graft situation that the aldermen refuse to order meters put in the water pipes and thus trap the corporations, which, it is said, are stealing city water. The average consumption of water is 289 gallons per capita, where the normal could be 100 gallons.

LADIES TAKE COGNIZANCE

HEARTILY APPROVE ACTION OF ALDERMEN IN REJECTING LICENSES.

"Red Letter Day" Celebrated by the W. C. T. U. at Last Thursday's Gathering.

(Communicated.)

At the regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. last Thursday afternoon, the first business transacted after the regular opening exercises was the offering and adoption of the following resolution which passed unanimously: "Resolved, That as it is a cardinal principle of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union that any business that cannot succeed by complying with the law should not continue, this union hereby would place on record with the expressed views of the law-abiding and better class of citizens of Paducah, its hearty approval of the action of the board of aldermen at their last meeting in refusing a license to seven saloons and in warning those continuing that the laws must be obeyed."

After the adoption of the resolution the remainder of the day was given to the memory of Miss Frances E. Willard whose earthly labors were ended February 17, 1898. Ever since that day has been observed as a Red Letter day on both sides of the Atlantic wherever the White Ribbon is worn. The Paducah union, however, observed February 15. The president, Mrs. Eliza Puryear, read the one hundred and forty-sixth psalm, known as the Crusade Psalm. Mrs. Fannie Dunn read a poem written by Rev. Wm. Hunter, editor of the Pittsburg Christian Advocate in 1874, called the "Battle Hymn of the Crusade," and sung during the crusade at Xenia, Ohio.

Mrs. Pearl Norvell read an account of Miss Willard's funeral service at Evanston, Ill., where she is buried, also an account of the first great meeting of Christian temperance women, which was held at Cincinnati, in May, 1874. The call for this convention was issued by Mrs. Stanley, president of the Akron Temperance league, and accepted by the temperance women of Cincinnati. It was a mass convention; no restrictions were placed on representation and men as well as women were admitted as delegates.

The local committee had secured the basement of the Ninth street Baptist church for the convention, but 500 delegates and a large concourse of citizens made it necessary to throw open the large auditorium, which was soon crowded to its utmost capacity. This convention lasted two days and the interest became so great that mass meetings were also held in two other churches. This was the nerve center, so to speak, of that great movement destined to develop in a few short months into an organization that with its White Ribbon now belts the globe.

Mrs. Julia Miles read "A Message from Miss Willard's Bible," by Eliza Beth F. Gordon. The writer says: "It is a well worn book. Every one who visits the home looks upon the Bible with reverence. How wonderfully the annotations reveal the growth of her beautiful life."

Miss Christine Mayers read a poem entitled "Since She Went Home," written by Ethel Maude Colson.

Mrs. Dorothy Koger, superintendent of Red Letter days, and who had arranged the program for the day, read the address of Hon. Franklin E. Brooks, representative from Colorado, on the acceptance of the statue of Miss Willard by the United States congress, February 17, 1905. In his address Mr. Brooks said: In her life she graced and adorned every circle. She added strength and force to every council. She promoted and advanced every good cause to a degree that we do not yet fully appreciate. She stands now as a type of the loftiest endeavor of the later years of the nineteenth century. Such a work and such a life knows no sex. It is for mankind.

Miss Jettie Elliott read an account of the many women's clubs that owe their growth and efficiency to the pioneer woman's organization, the W. C. T. U. Prominent among these stand the National Council of Women, the Mothers' Congress, the Catholic Women's League and a very host of others. The writer closes with these words: "Let us thank God most of all, that in the supreme court of public opinion the greatest suit at law of the century is set for trial. Long delayed, and often ruled out of court it has come squarely to the front at last. It now heads the docket, and the clear cut issue reads: The Women of the Nation vs. the Liquor Traffic."

The names of three honorary members were received. Honorary members are men who become such by signing the W. C. T. U. pledge and paying a membership fee of one dollar, the fees to be devoted to home work.

ORDERS "LID" FOR SUNDAY

No Saloons Must Be Open Then, Says Columbus, O., Mayor.

Columbus, O., Feb. 17.—Mayor Badger has instructed the chief of police to order his men to close all the saloons in Columbus Sunday. The order is emphatic and there is said to be no "string" to it. Chief O'Connor says he will see that both the back and front doors of the nearly 700 saloons are tightly closed. This will be the first time in sixteen years since the saloons in Columbus were not open on Sunday.

Electric Lighting Figures.

The corporation organs are trying to move heaven and earth in their efforts to saddle a lighting contract on the city of Paducah which has behind it a sinister motive. Figures have been dug up from some where, which those papers attempt to make the public believe represent the cost to the city of the lights now being furnished from its own plant. The Sun declares, "Average cost of lights per year under city ownership $84.92." Those figures are false. It takes less than $8,000 to operate the city plant a year, which, at that figure makes the 165 lights cost $48.48 per year each. It is said that the city plant is worthless, if that be true, and it is not, for it furnishes light every night, $48.48 would represent the full cost per light. But let's value the plant at $25,000, and add to per cent. of that sum for depreciation and interest, and that will increase the cost per light $15.15 or $63.63 per light, and not $84.92 as the Sun deliberately states it. If the plant is practically worthless as charged, every business man knows the expense of operating it is much heavier, therefore, if the plant is placed in first-class condition, and 200 or more lights used, it does not take an expert to readily figure that it will then cost the city less than $50 a year per light, and not $99 as "estimated" by the Sun. The lighting corporation proposes to furnish the light at $62.50, or 25 per cent more than the figure at which the city, at the very highest calculation, could furnish its own lights, and instead of the corporation's proposition saving the city money, the city would have to pay $12.50 more per light, and which, on 200 lights, means to pay $2,500 per year just for the privilege of giving the contract to the lighting company. Nor is this all, with the corporation's proposition goes the shutting down of the city's plant and the last vestige of competition wiped out, and a complete monopoly of every electric and gas light in the city vested in that corporation. Those people are here to make money, and to acquire what they have, a round price was paid to a select few who pose as progressive citizens.

We are somewhat surprised at the greed of the company as made manifest in its proposition. Considering the fact that thousands of citizens of Paducah are in favor of enlarging the city's plant so as to enable it to furnish commercial lighting and power, and thereby come in direct competition with the light and power company, that company, as a cold blooded business proposition, in order to eliminate any chance of competition could afford to furnish the city of Paducah street lights for $25 a year or $5,000 for 200 lights, yet it endeavors through its organs and the influence of the very men from whom they bought their present holdings, to saddle a contract on the city for $62.50 a light, when the city with a first-class plant can furnish its own lights for less than $50 a light. As to the value of a monopoly, the consolidated lighting and power companies in their fight to prevent the general council of Louisville from giving another company a franchise for lighting and power in that city, comes forward with a proposition that if the city will refuse to grant the new company a franchise, the present company will reduce the rates to consumers forty per cent. This demonstrates beyond doubt the value of a monopoly. A plant owned and operated by the city for furnish commercial lighting is the one thing not wanted by the corporate interests. It was argued by a corporation organ, a few days ago, that on account of the business now held by the lighting company, it could produce the street lights much cheaper than the city. Yes, and by the same theory of reasoning, with a well equipped plant owned by the city and furnishing the street lights, it could with very little more expense produce and furnish commercial lights and power much cheaper than the private company.

Even if it were granted that the corporation organ's figures are correct, but they are not, what would the saving of a few cents in taxes be to a man if he had to pay a good round price for lights as the result of a monopoly? We believe the gentlemen who have their money invested in the lighting and power company are entitled to a fair profit on their investment, but we also believe that the general council as the representatives of the people should see to it that every safeguard possible is erected to protect the citizens from any possible danger of imposition or increased cost in living in this city. If a Louisville company can afford to give private consumers a reduction of forty per cent, why can not companies seeking a monopoly in other cities do the same. Yet we find no such inducement incorporated in the proposition that is now being urged upon the city, but on the contrary we do find that to accept the contract means for the city to pay more for its public lights than it can produce them itself.

There is a legal phase to the case in hand which we will not attempt to discuss at this time, but will merely say that even if the general council did accept the proposition, that there is no possibility whatever of it becoming operative; even if it were signed, sealed and delivered, as now proposed, any taxpayer could knock it out in the courts.

Little Rock and Paducah.

In this issue of The Register is published a letter from Mayor Lenon, of Little Rock, Ark., in which he gives the figures on lighting the streets of that city. The city owns its plant at a cost of $55,000 which furnishes 320 lights. We understand that Paducah's plant cost $40,000 and furnishes 165 lights, this makes it plain that there is room for improvement in dealing with the question in Paducah. The full cost as per capacity is Little Rock $172 per light, Paducah $242 per light. In the matter of operating expenses Little Rock last year paid $11,273, or a cost of $35.23 per light. Paducah this year expects to operate the plant on $7,280, or $44.12 per light; still more room for improvement in Paducah. The difference in the operating expenses at Little Rock last year and what Paducah proposes to expend for operating expenses this year is $3,993. For that $3,993 additional, Little Rock furnished 155 more lights than the number in Paducah which makes the cost of the additional lights $25.74 each per year. This demonstrates that each additional light costs less.

What Little Rock and hundreds of other cities are doing, Paducah can do. The majority of the people of Paducah have expressed a desire for improvement in every direction possible, and they look with general disappointment upon any member of the general council, who before he has made an effort to do those things, shows a disposition to evade the duties to which he has been elected and to abandon one of the departments of the city to people who have a motive in view that bores no good to those who elected such weak-kneed persons to a seat in the general council.

The public in considering the figures given out by the corporation organs should not overlook the fact that in arriving at the cost of the lights produced by the city that the value of the city's plant, anywhere from $25,000 to $40,000 is figured in, but when it comes to giving the figures at which the lighting company proposes to furnish the lights, the value of the city's plant is not figured in. To make it plain, under the company's proposition the city must close down and abandon its plant; to close it down for ten years is merely to make scrap iron out of it, therefore if it is valued at, say $25,000 then $2,500 a year must be added to the company's figures, or $12.50 more per light, added to the $62.50 makes the cost to the city $75 per light each year, when a good plant well operated by the city will produce the lights at less than $50 a year.

The city should press with vigor the contemplated action for damages against Mark Worten, who, ever since he quit drawing a salary from the city has been harassing it with law suits for himself, and for ex-chain gang prisoners. Because he has a license to practice law and can bring suits with little cost against individuals or the city, he ought to be given a dose of his own contemptible medicine. The malice of some men can never be checked until they are shown up before a court in their true light. Worten's methods have long since disgusted the good people of this city and its vicinity.

Another example of "high finance" comes from Cleveland, Ohio, in which a lot of shrewd capitalists organized a company with only $10,000, capitalized it at $3,000,000 and then sold bonds to the amount of $2,000,000 to the sucker public. The courts now have the matter in hand and it is to be hoped that those "progressive business men" will land where they belong.

Members of the general council are beginning to keep tab on Sunday observance, and unless the edict of the aldermen is obeyed there will be still less saloons in Paducah next July.

The police investigation is on in St. Louis. Three more patrolmen were dismissed Friday and the formal charges presented against the chief of police who has been removed from office. The investigation promises to be sensational.

DIXON GOT HIS

JUDGE HANDED HIM ENOUGH
FOR TERM OF SIX MONTHS.

Judge Continued the Hessig Family
Trouble Warrant After Hearing
Part of Evidence.

William Dixon, colored, tried to take things down about the wharf-boat early yesterday morning, but got taken himself before long by Detectives Moore and Baker, who rushed him before Judge Sanders in the police court, where the judge proceeded to throw in Dixon's direction a little dose of justice from underneath his judicial ermine. For carrying concealed weapons Dixon was fined $30 and sent to jail for twenty days, while for presenting his revolver at others he was fined $75 and twenty-five days in jail. A third warrant charging him with being drunk and disorderly was filed away for future reference. Dixon is from Mounds, Ill., near Cairo, and claims to be a detective, having a card on his person. He also had three big guns in his pockets, and was at the wharf running things to suit himself. At the point of a revolver he made a white gentleman vacate a chair on the Fowler and give it to Dixon. He will not bother anybody for a few days now, as the fines amount to something like six months in jail.

George Brown, colored, was given a continuance until next Tuesday of the charge of stealing a suit of clothing from the Wallerstein delivery wagon.

Jim Doolin and Luther Luffell were given a postponement until tomorrow of the charge of fighting at the opera house Friday night.

On account of his victim being unable to attend court for the trial yesterday there was continued until March 3rd, the warrant charging George Dozier, colored, with assaulting the negro woman.

Noble Boatwright was fined $10 and costs for being drunk and disorderly at the opera house Friday night, where he tore the hat from his sister-in-law's head.

Riley Swift was given a continuance until tomorrow of the warrant charging him with refusing to properly provide for his little children.

Louis Matthews was fined $50 and sent to jail for twenty days for carrying concealed weapons.

The judge heard part of the testimony in the warrant charging Mrs. Essie Hessig, who is wife No. 3, with cursing and abusing Mrs. A. J. Hessig, who is wife No. 1, and from New York. After hearing some of the evidence the judge continued the matter over until tomorrow, and put both women under $500 bond to keep the peace toward the other.

MISS ROOSEVELT'S FUTURE HOME IS MOST ARTISTIC

Old Mansion to Which Congressman Longworth Will Take His Bride One of the Finest in Washington.

The home to which Congressman Longworth will take his bride is one of the most aristocratic old mansions in Washington—spacious, homelike, fine-covered and furnished with perfect taste. The president's daughter never cared for the White House and her own little suite of rooms (all furnished in the shade of blue since named for her) she particularly disliked for some fanciful home of her wilful own. Her future home is charming enough to suit the most fastidious of brides, more homelike, if not as elaborate as the exquisite home to which Senator Dewey brought his bride, and which he had furnished in Louis Quinzo style of the purest type.

The Longworth home is a corner house very large as Washington houses go, but roomy enough for a newly married couple and their friends. It is of red sandstone and has a colonial doorway which has been much admired for its beauty.

All the floors are of hard wood, and the walls are covered with silk or burlap linen. The pictures are few, but good—mostly paintings of old masters.

The drawing room has a magnificent dark rug, Afghanistan, brought from Europe by the congressman's mother.

The chandelier is a work of art, and consists of fifty candelabra.

A couch, tiny tables with rare ivory, Japanese lamps, bronzes, some priceless pieces of mahogany furniture, capacious armchairs, a couch or two that sink in when one reclines on them, and with plenty of pillows, and a grand piano, marble bust or two, and a charming portrait of the future Mrs. Longworth—all these combine admirably and harmoniously to form a drawing room that is rich and dignified, restful and informal.

RULES PROMULGATED FOR CATHOLICS DURING LENT

The regulations for the observance of Lent by members of the Catholic church have been issued as follows:

1. Ash Wednesday falls on the 28th of February.

2. All of the days of Lent are fast-days, except the Sundays.

3. All persons who have completed their twenty-first year, unless legitimately dispensed, are obliged to keep the fast. The custom allows a cup of coffee, tea or chocolate, with a small piece of bread to be taken in the morning. In the evening a collation not exceeding the fourth part of an ordinary meal is allowed.

4. By dispensation the use of flesh meat is allowed at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, except the Saturday in Ember week and the Saturday in Holy week.

5. The use of fish and flesh-meat is not allowed at the same meal during Lent.

6. All under twenty-one years of age, those who are engaged in hard work, the sick and convalescent and persons who cannot fast without serious injury to health, are exempt from the fast. Persons excused from fasting on account of tender age, hard labor, and sickness, are not restricted to the use of flesh-meat at only one meal on the days on which it is allowed. Those who entertain any reasonable doubt about their obligations to fast or abstain ought to apply to their pastors for advice or dispensation.

7. The time for fasting the Paschal duty is extended in this diocese from the first Sunday in Lent to Trinity Sunday.

In virtue of special faculties given in a letter of the sacred congregation of propaganda to the ordinaries of the United States on the 15th of March, 1895, and renewed in 1905, permission is granted to all laborers in this diocese to eat meat at one meal on days of abstinence.

From this permission, however, are excluded all Fridays in the year, Ash Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of Holy week, at the vigil of Christmas. It should also be remarked that on those days on which the use of meat is thus allowed, fish and flesh cannot be eaten at the same meal.

This permission to eat meat on certain days of abstinence extends not only to the laborers themselves, but also to their families, so that every member of the family participates in the privilege of the adult.

Those who make use of this dispensation are earnestly exhorted to perform some other work of penance on those days, such as abstaining from the use of intoxicating drink or some other act of mortification.

Pastors are asked to explain the above regulations to the faithful before the beginning of Lent. This season is expected to be faithfully observed by Catholics, and in order to promote the spirit of penance and prayer peculiar to the time, they are invited whenever it is practicable, to attend in church the extra devotional services which are earnestly recommended to be held at least twice a week, and which might consist on Wednesdays of the recitation of a part of the rosary, a practical instruction and the benediction of the blessed sacrament; on Fridays, the appropriate exercises would be stations of the cross.

STATEHOOD BILL BEFORE THE SENATE. Adjourn to Monday With Speech on It Unfinished.

Washington, Feb. 17.—The senate passed to the consideration of the joint statehood bill and for an hour and a half listened to a speech by Mr. Dick in support of the bill as reported from the committee on territories. The Ohio senator's speech received careful attention from the senators present, but the attendance was at no time large. Among the auditors in the gallery were a number of Indians in native costume.

Mr. Dick did not conclude his speech, and as he was not prepared to resume the senate decided not to sit again until Monday.

COSTLY MEMORIAL FOR PROMINENT DECEASED ELK Monument to Cost $300,000 to Be Erected for Meade D. Detweiler.

Harrisburg, Pa., Feb. 17.—A memorial to cost $300,000 is to be erected by the Elks to the memory of the late Grand Exalted Ruler, Meade D. Detweiler of this city.

It will be placed in Reservoir Park. It will be a large shaft, upon which is to be a figure of Mr. Detweiler in the full robes of the order. In the rear two arms will support a vase. On the opposite side an Elk is to be placed.

It is recorded as a remarkable fact in England that eight members of the new liberal cabinet are lawyers, the legal profession thus having nearly half of the whole ministry. Such a proportion would excite no surprise and break no records in America.

SALARY SPURNED BY MAYOR Executive of Portage, Wis., Refused to Accept Pay for Services.

Portage, Wis., Feb. 17.—Mayor Alois Zienert, banker, manufacturer and philanthropist, has refused to accept his salary of $600 for his last year's services to the city. He declares that in a city the size of Portage, where the office is hardly more than honorary, a citizen who is worth the honor of election should be sufficiently public spirited to give his services to the city.

COLLECTING POLLS. Many Hundreds Have Come Forward and Been Received.

Mr. Lee Potter, former sheriff, has collected in many hundreds of back poll taxes from the people owing same, while the balance are coming forward right along and paying their polls for last year. The former sheriff was named by the county fiscal court as the proper party to collect these polls, and he is being very lenient with everybody, but will shortly commence garnishing everyone for the $1.50 because the court compels him to make settlement with the county in April, and he must have every single one in by that time.

BRICKMAKERS COUNCILMAN HENRY KATTERJOHN RETURNED FROM PHILADELPHIA.

He Has Been Attending Convention of Brick Manufacturers, and Is Kentucky's Vice President.

Councilman Henry Katterjohn, the brickmaker, has returned from Philadelphia, Pa., where he has been the past week or ten days, attending the Brickmakers' National association that has been in session at that city during that space of time.

Mr. Katterjohn says it was the most interesting and largely attended gathering ever conducted by the national body, as hundreds of manufacturers of brick were present from all over the country, many from California, New Orleans, Texas and other points. It seemed the representation there was general from all sections, and a several days' interesting business session was conducted.

Mr. Katterjohn was honored with being chosen the Kentucky vice president to the national organization, and the choice could not have been made better as he has spent his life in the business, thoroughly understands it, and is also well and favorably known throughout the entire commonwealth, from end to end.

Kentucky has not an association of brickmakers of the state, all of them affiliating with the national body. Now though, the latter is preparing to organize a state association for those of Kentucky, and steps to this end were taken at the Philadelphia gathering. The state bodies are gotten up under supervision of the national organization, and as nearly all the states over the country are organizing, the Kentuckians want to keep pace with the rapid advancement in this regard.

About the last of next month Mr. Katterjohn expects to start his big brick yards again for the summer, and commence turning out the large stacks of brick for building purposes. By resuming the last of March, he will have on hand a large stock to start the season off with, when there opens weather favorable to building. The brick kilns are all closed down during the winter months.

BIG RAISE THE COUNTY SUPERVISORS INCREASE FIGURES BY $700,000.

John Hughes Will Take Ten Days to Complete Books, When They Go to County Clerk.

The board of county supervisors this year did better than the city board, as the raises made by the former to city and county property for county and state tax purposes amounted to a little over $700,000, thereby making the total assessment this year of $10,913,481. This result was attained yesterday in footing up the books which were then turned over to Mr. John Hughes, the former county assessor, who went out of office the first of this year, but completes the books as it is his duty to arrange everything for this year's taxes. When he completes the books about the last of next week, he hands them to the county clerk who copies the recapitulation and forwards it to the state supervisors at Frankfort to ascertain if the total is satisfactory to the state authorities.

During 1904 the board raised the assessments made by the assessor by $180,000, which made the total of $10,213,481 to start with last year when the valuations were being fixed for the 1906 tax. Now the supervisors raised these figures over the $700,000 mentioned, and this brings it up to $10,913,481.

It cannot be told what the county tax rate will be this year, because the fiscal court does not fix until its April term the sum of money needed to maintain the county government. When that is known the rate is then decided on.

TO REDUCE RATES

LOUISVILLE LIGHTING COMPANY ANXIOUS TO KEEP OUT COMPETITION.

Possibility of a 40 Per Cent. Reduction Announced—New Interests Want Franchise.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 17.—In an effort to prevent competition in the lighting business in Louisville the Louisville Lighting company, through President Udolpho Snead, is willing to cut the rates for electric lighting all over the city. This fact was brought out yesterday in a statement made by Mr. Snead at an informal meeting of several members of the general council.

Mr. Snead stated that in the event the council refused to grant the Jones-Atherton combination a franchise, and also the persons represented by John L. Dunlap, the Louisville Lighting company would be willing to make a big reduction in the rates for all classes of lighting.

While the exact amount of this cut could not be learned, it was stated it would be in the neighborhood of 40 per cent.

This Week at The Kentucky.

Monday Night—Judge Henry Tyler, of Hickman, Ky., Lecture on "The Wizard in the Saddle," for U. C. V. Thursday Matinee and Night—"The Brits & Nelson Prize Fight," motion pictures.

Friday Night—Donnelly & Hatfield Minstrels.

The Pensacola Journal of Pensacola, Florida, has the following to say of the "Donnelly & Hatfield minstrels" which comes to The Kentucky on Friday night of this week: "For years the Al G. Field minstrel performances have been recognized as the peer of them all. The very name of Al G. Field in connection with a minstrel was like magic upon the people throughout the country, and the friends of that gentleman one year ago proclaimed that he had exhausted all minstrel features on earth. Few ever expected to see anything in that line which would even make a comparison—he had reached the acme—that was the popular verdict."

The advent of the Donnelly & Hatfield minstrels has already changed the tide, that is so far as Pensacola is concerned at least. A packed house witnessed last night's performance and after it was all over, this new aggregation, which has sprung up in a single season snatched the laurel, claiming them as their own.

The performance was superb. There was not a single dull moment, no stale jokes, no tiresome features, but on the contrary was replete with fun from beginning to end. The opening scene is gorgeous with its many colored lights and elaborate scenery and the dashing costumes of the players. Originality stamps every detail of this performance, which all goes to make up a first-class and unique entertainment.

The Fitzsimmons and O'Brien Prize Fight.

On Washington's birthday, next Thursday, matinee and night, the great Fitzsimmons and O'Brien prize fight will be produced by moving pictures. Also the Corbett fight will be shown by Mr. Frank Rayman.

The pictures are given with all the sound effects, with the exact words that passed while the fighters were in the ring.

These pictures were made at the ring side and are true and life-like in every respect. There will be many other interesting features given that will please everyone. Mr. Rayman also carries a complete line of comedy pictures especially for the children.

Reports from other cities where the pictures have been given say that they are the best ever seen in this line.

LIQUOR BUSINESS

TOO VILE FOR HIM.

Sale of Impure Drink and His Mother's Pleading Arouse Man's Conscience.

Philadelphia, Feb. 15.—For the first time in nearly twenty years, operation of his license in Philadelphia a conscience-stricken liquor dealer has petitioned that his license be revoked because the trade had degenerated through the sale of impure liquors and that the traffic is responsible for untold human misery and death. The pleading of his aged mother, not religious conversion, aroused the conscience of Matthew M. Ferrill, under whose name a wholesale liquor business had been conducted since last June. The business is conducted by a firm and Ferrill declares he only lent his name, without being engaged in the traffic. Sale of cognac spirits and fusel oil for pure liquor Ferrill denounced in these words:

"I can no longer permit my name to be connected with the business which distributes such poisonous poisons, as there can be no doubt that in many cases where men and women have been found dead they have come to their death through patronizing saloons selling such concoctions under the guise of liquor. "I further object to having my name connected with a business which takes from human beings not only their money but their will power and reason, and leaves them abandoned or ruined wrecks for all time and eternity. It is a fact, which must be taken as a variety, that more crimes are traceable to the rum business, and more sorrow is due to vile drinks than to all other causes."

ATTEMPTED TO CHEAT.

Deed to the People's Savings Bank
Building in Simmons' Name.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 16.—Receiver Wilton, of the People's Savings bank today discovered the deed to the bank building, which had been missing since the Rev. George H. Simmons killed himself. While the building was bought with the funds from the bank, the deed was made out to George H. Simmons only, thus revealing an effort to swindle his partner, the Rev. E. L. Kelly, who owned a half interest with him. The discovery of the deed caused consternation among the 900 depositors of the bank, as the building had been regarded as the chief asset, its value being placed at $40,000. As it is in the name of Simmons the widow will receive her dower rights and the personal creditors of the estate an allowance of their claims, the residue, if any, going to the depositors pro rata.

was most entrancingly decorated, green hearts and varied plants adorning the reception hall and library, while pink colors prevailed in the double parlors, the arrangement being with hearts and carnations of that hue. Carnations and hearts of red, with crimson tulle bows adorned the spacious dining hall.

Twenty-three tables were filled with over 100 guests and a very spirited and unusually interesting game was indulged in. Dainty valentine, comprised the attractive tallies, tied with ribbon similar in color to the rooms occupied by the players.

Mrs. Herman Wallerstein captured the married lady's prize on a cut with Mrs. Saunders A. Fowler, while the gift for the young lady went to Miss Mildred Terrell. The lone hand went to Mrs. James Campbell, Jr., and the consolation to Miss Clara Thompson.

On completion of the game a sumptuous luncheon was partaken of by the merry throng at the tables in the rooms, the ices and cakes served in each quarter being the same color as the floral decorations.

Evening With Miss Bergdoll.

Many friends spent Wednesday evening with Miss Edna Bergdoll at her hospitable home on South Eleventh street, enjoying the Valentine entertainment she gave.

For the occasion a lively contest was had darting spears at a large heart hung upon the wall, underneath which big one were many smaller hearts. Whichever heart was speared by the respective guest, was presented, and on opening it contained inside a prophecy for the winner.

During the evening a spirited card game was had, and Miss Marie Roth took the lady's prize, while that for the young man went to Mr. Joseph Roth.

Following the games and contests the happy throng, repaired to the prettily decorated dining room where a most elegant luncheon was partaken, the ices being red cherries frozen in white.

Valentine Cotillion.

Very handsome and charming in detail was the valentine dance given by the Cotillion club at the Palmer Wednesday evening, and many were there enjoying the diversion until a late hour. The guests were: Messrs. and Mesdames James P. Laffey, of Cincinnati; C. M. Budd, David Sanders, O. L. Gregory, Jas. C. Utterback, S. A. Fowler; Mesdames Irvin McArthur, of Lapeer, Mich.; W. J. ## TOWN COW

NEW ORDINANCE NOT YET

DRAWN UP YET SAYS

SOLICITOR.

He Believes He Has Figured Up One

That Will Stick in the Courts.

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., yesterday stated that he had suggested a new "Town Cow" ordinance of the municipal legislative authorities, but that as yet they have not instructed him to proceed drafting the measure so as to bring it before them for enactment in governing laws. It was reported that the new ordinance would be brought in tomorrow night for the council to give initial adoption to it, but this is erroneous.

The solicitor believes he has figured out an ordinance that will stick in the courts, where heretofore every cow measure has been declared invalid by Judge Sanders, first for one cause, and then another. The old laws have provided that if a cow runs at large on the public highways, she shall be taken up and herself fined and sold. As to this the solicitor says nothing can be sold in the police court to satisfy a judgment of that kind, and he agrees with Judge Sanders in holding the old measures invalid.

In figuring up a bill the solicitor says his idea is to make everybody in the city pay a license, on their cows just the same as they do now on their dogs. When this license is paid the city clerk, the solicitor advocates issuing tags, just like for dogs now. Then if a cow gets out on the street she can be caught and her tag number looked at. By reference to the record book in the city clerk's office it will be shown who owns the cow, and then the owner can be warranted and fined. The new bill has some provisions the solicitor believes will make it hold, and just as soon as he is instructed by both boards to draft the bill and bring it in he will do so.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Ella Crow is very ill at her home on Jackson street, near Third. The Mobile, Ala., papers state that Mr. Albert Gilbert has been elected first lieutenant of the Lamox guards there. He is the grandson of Mrs. Azelia Gilbert, of this city. Yesterday morning J. A. Brown, aged 65 years, died of stomach trouble at Mayfield, and will be buried today. He was in the paint business there for 25 years.

Telegraphic dispatches yesterday from Louisville stated that Mrs. Edith Terry Purnell had been granted a divorce from Lieut. Julius Purnell, of the U. S. army in the Philippines. She alleged cruelty and drunkenness. She is well known in this city, where her mother is now visiting friends. She is a recognized beauty of Kentucky.

Colonial Tea.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock the Newell society will give a Colonial Tea in the League parlors of the Broadway Methodist church. A delightful musical program will be rendered. Admission ten cents.

FRATERNAL DELEGATE

Yesterday morning Rev. T. J. Newell, of the Broadway Methodist church, of this city, received word from the Northern Methodist conference that at the last gathering of that organization there was chosen Vice President Fairbanks as a fraternal delegate to meet the Southern Methodist conference that gathers in Birmingham, Ala., next May, and will be participated in by delegates from every district of the South.

Rev. Newell stated last evening that this is probably the first time within history of either of the conferences, that a representative was selected by one body to attend the general gathering of the other in the future mentioned. Years ago the Methodist churches split and divided into North and South, but this selection of a North vice president to participate with the Southerners is an unprecedented spirit of friendship appreciated from every source.

Mrs. Fannie Prince Daily Getting Better at Riverside Hospital—
Ashblock Be Taken Home.

Contractor George Katterjohn is able to be out attending to business again, after a ten day's confinement, as result of an operation performed on him for stomach trouble in his private ward at Riverside hospital. He is yet very weak, but daily regaining his strength.

Getting Better.

Mrs. Fannie Prince continues to get better at Riverside hospital, where she has been since the mishap of last Wednesday, when the I. C. freight train knocked her and Mrs. Joseph Henley off the trestle beside the stock yards, several hundred feet North of the Union depot. Her broken limb is doing all right, but she will be at the institution a month yet.

Take Husband Home.

Yesterday the wife of Mr. Hays Ashblock came from Big Clifty, Ky., to this city after her husband who today will be sent to his home in that place, after a several weeks confinement at the Illinois Central railroad hospital, as result of his foot being cut off when he fell and rolled underneath the train on leaping off the cars at Big Clifty. He is a section hand.

Resume Work.

Flagman Ben Buttrey of the N. C. & St. L. has resumed work on the road, after laying up several months with a fractured hip, injured by falling from his train down about Lexington, Tenn.

GARNER MURDER

NOTHING DEVELOPED LEADING TO FERRETING MYSTERY.

Two Men Probably Thought "Dry Sunday" On and Took Supply—Man Whipped Wife.

It has been just one week since Burns Garner met his foul death, but as yet the police authorities and detectives have been unable to bring to surface anything leading to discovery of the murderer. The entire force has been working energetically on the case ever since last Sunday, but as yet nothing has developed to show from whence the cruel, cold waters received its silent form. A man was frozen stiff when found, beside the dry docks at the foot of Jefferson street. This seems to be one of the most mysterious murders ever occurring here, as the officers cannot trace Garner's footsteps, toward the river front.

Good Old Jap.

In preparing themselves for a "dry Sunday" a white man and negro met got so good and full late last night that they could not tell their names to the police. Officers Terrell and Cross early this morning picked up the negro at Fourth and Washington, and he could neither walk or talk. At Ninth and Court Officers Senter and Matlock picked up a white man who had his package about to the extent he could not talk.

Reported Woman Whipped.

It was reported to the police last night that a man whipped his wife on Norton, between Fifth and Sixth streets, and the officers are now investigating the matter with the object of procuring warrants.

Wanted Bloodhounds.

Chief James Collins, of the police force, yesterday received word that about a dozen cook houses had been robbed the past week around Folsomdale, Graves county. Requests were made of the chief for detectives and bloodhounds, but neither were available.

Outfit Recovered.

Yesterday morning Officer Dick Woods found standing in an alley, on West Court street, the horse and buggy of Mr. Hollihan of Heath, Ky. Parties stole it the night before, and after driving to their hearts content abandoned the rig.

BASEBALL.

Way, who will twirl for Cairo, the Fowler, Ind., pitcher who shut out Adams "Leaguers" 13 to 0 last season. He is certainly good.

Jacksonville years ago was a member of the Western association. At then drew 600 to 700 on week days. Last year with independent ball the Sunday crowds exceeded 2,000 paid admissions.

"Siamese Twins" another name for the Mattoon-Charleston aggregation.

In connection with the schedule, two games, morning and afternoon, are to be played on Decoration Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day.

"Bob" Berryhill will confer with Fred Moore and after that he will know whether or not he is to manage the "Hyphens" next season. Berryhill stands well, makes no reckless promises, but has every qualification for the post.

Geo. W. Niles, of Ohio, has agreed to post a $300 guarantee to put in a team that will finish one, two three if he is made manager. He wants the $1,000 monthly limit for his team. The team suggested by him includes Dwyer, Macon, Ga.; Grinnell, Springfield, O.; Hugh Collins, Atlanta, Ga.; pitchers; Van Patterson, Ohio-Penn. league, catcher; Mike Gilligan, Paducah, first; Legge, second; Donohue, Springfield, O., short; Hosmer, Williamsport, O., third; Hildebrand, Ohio state league, outfield. Niles' offer to guarantee his team may him the job as good players are not easily secured at this late day.—Mattoon Star.

The Gilligan mentioned is Eddie instead of Mike and he is under reserve by Paducah and in danger of being blacklisted. Mattoon-Charleston could not use him unless Paducah voluntarily releases him or he is bought. As Gilligan does not want to play under Manager Lloyd no doubt he could be bought for a very reasonable sum. In case a kick is made and Mattoon-Charleston secures him the Register wants to state right here that it would secure one of the headiest men in the business, and with anything near a first class team for him to coach Gilligan would make trouble for all the other teams in the race for the flag. It was through his executive ability and quick judgment that Paducah landed the six-club pennant last season. The reason the four-club pennant was not captured by the Indians was because Captain Gilligan "jumped."

C. A. Wortham, manager of the Danville team in the Kitty league, announced last night that he has secured the services of three more crack-jack players. Bob Shaw, one of the trio, is a back stop artist and if he makes good will be given the position of relief catcher. He played on the Paris team in the Texas league last year and was one of the fleetest base runners and hardest hitters in that organization which is noted in the baseball world for its heavy batters. Roy Blosser, a promising youngster who played on the Kentland team last year, has also been signed by Manager Wortham. Blosser's home is in Kewana. He is said to be one of the best infielders in the business in amateur circles. This will be his last year in the professional field. C. D. Saltwash, a big Tuten from Bellfontaine, O., is the last man to sign his name to a Danville contract. Saltwash is not known in this part of the country, but comes to Danville highly recommended as a clever fielder and hard hitter. Harry Berte, for years premier short stop for the Three Eye league, may wear a Danville uniform this season. He has played with Cedar Rapids for the last three seasons.—Danville Press.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Cumberland Presbyterian church will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. James Koger, of Jefferson, between Seventh and Eighth streets.
